Books, Dolls, Toys and Games. We have the very things you're looking for.

And in buying at Watt's you buy at about wholesale prices. With us there is no extra expense entailed in handling this sort of merchandise. We have ample room to make our display, which is the greatest display in this part of Virginia.

Here are thousands of motherless dolls patiently awaiting adoption, or gazing with wistful longing at whole streets of doll-houses—possible homes; horses mutely pleading for a loving caress from some little master's hand. Here are suits of furniture, cooking ranges and kitchen utensils for the tiny housekeeper; toy grocery stores, express and delivery wagons for the prospective business man; drums, cannon and forts, swords, pistols and full equipments for the little soldier, with regiments of infantry and brigades of cavalry awaiting his command; fire-engines and police-patrols, locomotives that pull whole trains of cars, huge battleships and cruisers, magic lanterns, punching bags, tricycles, air rifles—in short, a complete stock of everything that human ingenuity has ever devised to please the childish mind or tickle the juvenile fancy.

We display on our second floor

a complete line of all sorts of Puzzles and Indoor Games —amusement and diversions for otherwise tedious winter hours. Here are all the popular old ones, such as checkers, parcheesi and backgammon, together with a host of novelties—all highly amusing, and many of them of considerable educational value.
